Advice for the Quarter-to-Semester Transition
Psychology BA Sophomore

The table below provides recommendations for classes to take during the 2017–2018 academic year before the change to semesters in 2018—2019. It is targeted at students in their sophomore year who started in Fall 2017. Students who follow these suggestions will maximize their chances of graduating by Spring 2020.

Plan to visit a major advisor soon, if you have not already done so. Major advisor office hours are available at the link below. Students can visit or call faculty during their office hours. Students at the Concord Campus can visit one of the advisors there.

https://www.csueastbay.edu/csci/departments/psychology/hours.html

Plan to complete all of the below courses by the end of the year, while also completing most of your lower-division GE requirements.

Quarter-Based Course	Semester Equivalent
☐ PSYC 1000: General Psychology (or equivalent)	PSYC 100
☐ PSYC 2020: Methods of Investigation in Psychology	PSYC 200
☐ BIOL 1001: Introduction to Biology	BIOL 101
☐ BIOL 1002: Introduction to Biology Lab	BIOL 102
☐ STAT 1000: Elements of Probability and Statistics	STAT 100