Master of Science in Education, Option in Curriculum Degree

The Master of Science in Education, Option in Curriculum is now open for enrollment for Summer, 2015 at the Hayward campus. This program is designed to prepare teachers and educational professionals who are dedicated to the academic achievement of all students and wish to continue their growth as professionals.

This 45-unit program consists of four core courses (16 units) and Electives (16-29 units.) Students take a series of 4 core courses designed to prepare student to implement an action-research project in their own classroom. The electives offered are from various content areas of the curriculum. Classes meet on Mondays and Tuesdays and begin at 5:00 p.m.

Potential students may transfer up to 13 units from a Credential Program, or from another graduate program. The units can be no older than seven years when the student graduates with the MS degree.

Because you are an interested teacher, we will make it easy for you to apply. If you have a credential GPA of at least 3.4, we will waive the letters of recommendation, personal statement, and resume. All you need to do is complete 2 forms:
