l) Taught entirely on-line, on-ground, or hybrid (both):
(If the answer is on-line or hybrid, also respond to the additional three questions below:)

- On-line
- On-ground
- Hybrid (both online and on-ground)

This course will be taught in both online and hybrid formats. Video clips, news articles, and documentaries will be used to generate discussion and analysis about issues related to punishment and incarceration. As required readings, a textbook related specifically to this topic will be made available to students, in addition to any materials compiled by the instructor.

ii. Describe the experience, support and/or training available for the faculty members who will teach this online or hybrid course. (Discuss how you will ensure that faculty will know how to teach online or in a hybrid format.)

Any instructor teaching this course will be informed of the resources provided by CSU Online, and training materials for Blackboard. The department chair will mentor faculty teaching this course related to online/hybrid best practices.

iii. Assessment of online and hybrid courses. (Discuss how your department will assess the quality of the online and/or hybrid instruction to ensure it is equal or superior to your on-ground instruction.)

Note: Assessment of learning is NOT addressed through student evaluations.

Students will be assessed through the use of quizzes and exams to assess knowledge. Critical analysis papers, research papers, and other written assignments will assess student ability to analyze and synthesize material.

m) Offered on state-support or self-support:
