CSHU Dancers Seek Professional Career

By Sarah Leming

A veteran of 27 musicals, Bong Dizon hopes one day to see his name in lights. Dizon, a Cal State Hayward student, is about to take the plunge from the world of collegiate education into an unknown abyss of auditions in the hopes of earning a part on Broadway or a job in a dance company.

“The internship at the FTC was canceled until Sept. 4. Babee's scholarship was scheduled to begin on Sept. 2, but since he finished early for him, he won the scholarship over the day or two before the deadline. Babee was enrolled in the summer quarter and finals were the system to the semester system for both Democrats and Republicans. Babee said that Washington D.C. is a town that is politically divided, especially among federal workers. Babee earned a scholarship to attend a class at the Washington Center for Consumer Protection department, including working for the Federal Trade Commission. The class focuses on different human rights initiatives. Babee originally signed up for a class in international law, but the class was canceled. Babee said that the class was canceled just one day or two before the deadline.

Dizon recently completed his senior project, a dance show called “Alice In Love?” – a senior project, a dance show/play called “Alice In Love?” – a veteran of 27 musicals, Dizon is poised to graduate this fall. Dizon, a theater major, is prepared for life as a professional dancer. And he says he has his professors to thank for that.

By Michelle Morales

Area college student dating self

By Lisa Chene

Local college student Eric Peterson recently announced that he’s entered a committed relationship—with himself. Peterson vehemently denied rumors that the two were dating other people. “We’re totally committed to each other. We’ve never been happier.”

When asked whether people thought he was hoarding the campus heartthrob to himself off the market, he chucked up in large part to his current financial situation, claiming that monthly fees from his checking account were making it too expensive for him to date around. “It was partly a cost-effective decision on my part, but it’s been really nice for us to spend more time together.” Peterson was apparently unaware of Free Checking from Washington Mutual. It’s an account with no monthly fees and the option to add Deluxe services like free online bill pay. And he could have gotten Free Checking just by visiting a Washington Mutual Financial Center, then signed up for online bill pay and cancelled his checking account.

“Never been happier.”

Eric Peterson, top, has one of many romantic dinners with himself at his favorite restaurant.

By Sarah Leming

A person who knows what to say can change the world. Especially if he can do it in more than one language.

If you speak Arabic, Hindi, Turkish, or Farsi, this is your opportunity to see what it’s like to start a whole new life. As a Translator with the Army Reserve, you could become an integral part of our military and humanitarian missions around the world. As the skills part of an officer in the Army Reserve is so much greater in demand in today’s military, the Army is now offering you the opportunity to serve as a Translator. See your local Army Reserve Recruiting Station.

Stuart Babee will be spending his science major Mohammad Babee is the winner of a scholarship that requires him to take a class at the Washington Center for Consumer Protection department, including working for the Federal Trade Commission. The class focuses on different human rights initiatives. Babee originally signed up for a class in international law, but the class was canceled. Babee said that the class was canceled just one day or two before the deadline.

In addition to coordinating a panel discussion on consumer protection, Babee contacts consumers who have been falsely advertised products such as small electrical shocks. Babee is amazing a human rights class at the Washington Center. The class focuses on different human rights initiatives. Babee originally signed up for a class in international law, but the class was canceled. Babee said that the class was canceled just one day or two before the deadline.

Switching from the quarter system to the semester system has been challenging for Babes. The scholarship was awarded settlements due to faulty products. He also helps to track down companies that falsely advertise products such as small electrical shocks. Also, Babes is amazing a human rights class at the Washington Center. The class focuses on different human rights initiatives. Babee originally signed up for a class in international law, but the class was canceled. Babee said that the class was canceled just one day or two before the deadline.

“Never been happier.”

Eric Peterson, top, has one of many romantic dinners with himself at his favorite restaurant.

By Lisa Chene

“Never been happier.”

Eric Peterson, top, has one of many romantic dinners with himself at his favorite restaurant.

“Never been happier.”

Eric Peterson, top, has one of many romantic dinners with himself at his favorite restaurant.