2008-09 LECTURER EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNICATIVE SCIENCES AND DISORDERS
PART-TIME LECTURER, AUDIOLOGY

THE UNIVERSITY: California State University, East Bay is known for award-winning programs, expert instruction, small classes, a highly personalized learning environment, and a choice of more than 100 career-focused fields of study. There are two scenic campuses—one in the Hayward Hills overlooking San Francisco Bay and the other in the Concord foothills of Mt. Diablo—plus a professional center in dynamic downtown Oakland. The two campuses’ proximity to the major Bay Area cities provides unique cultural opportunities including museums, art galleries, aquariums, planetariums, plays, musicals, sports events, and concerts. Their nearness to the Pacific Ocean and Sierra Nevada Mountains offers recreational diversion as well as excellent laboratories for educational studies. The ten major buildings of the Hayward Hills campus, on 342 acres, contain over 150 classrooms and teaching laboratories, over 177 specialized instructional rooms, numerous student oriented computer labs and a library, which contains a collection of over one million items accessible through HAYSTAC, its on-line catalog. CSUEB’s Concord Campus provides full instructional support for over 1,600 upper division and graduate students. Its five buildings on 395 acres feature lecture halls, seminar rooms, computer labs, science labs, an art studio, theatre and library. The University has an enrollment of approximately 13,000 students with 600 faculty. CSUEB is organized into four colleges: Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences; Business and Economics; Education and Allied Studies; and Science. The University offers bachelor's degrees in 45 fields, minors in 66 fields, and master's degrees in 31 (in addition to Special Majors). Other programs lead to teaching, specialist, pupil personnel services, and administrative services credentials. To learn more about CSU, East Bay visit http://www.csueastbay.edu.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Department of Communicative Sciences and Disorders is one of 23 departments and programs within the College of Letters, Arts and Social Sciences. It has a three-dimensional mission of teaching, research, and service in speech, language, and hearing. The Department has approximately 60 undergraduate and 70 graduate majors, four full-time tenured/tenure-track faculty, and two speech-language pathologists who are responsible for the management of our Clinic. The Clinic facilities include eleven observable individual and group therapy rooms, one large group room, an aphasia treatment center, numerous study areas, a conference room, audiology facilities, and a speech science laboratory. The Department is certified by ASHA’s Council on Academic Accreditation in speech-language pathology and is authorized to grant the Rehabilitative Services Credential approved by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing.
