Yes No

1a.

Does the Annual Report record progress with departmental planning and review? – does it describe progress toward the program’s defined goals, any problems reaching its goals, any revisions to goals, and any new initiatives taken with respect to goals?

Yes No

The program has a strong plan for future development and is actively pursuing those goals. It has requested new TT faculty and has recently hired a faculty member who is a digital historian with a focus on the ancient world. The program is working to address areas of weakness in geographic coverage as noted in their self-study. The program did not difficulty with the high number of faculty in administrative positions as well as the need for additional administrative support. Overall, the program appears to be highly engaged in improving the degree and meeting its goals.
