Reyna Grande
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. — UU 311
Reyna Grande is an award-winning author and inspiration speaker. Join us for a community discussion as we examine her latest work “A Dream Called Home,” as it relates to our theme “Building Dreams not Walls.” reynagrande.com

Deepa Iyer
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. — UU 1001B
Join us for a dialogue with Deepa Iyer, author of “We Too Sing America: South Asian, Arab, Muslim, and Sikh Immigrants Shape Our Multiracial Future,” as we explore failed promise of the nation of immigrants. speakoutnow.org/speaker/deepa-iyer

Shaun King
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. — Theater
Civil rights activist and journalist, Shaun King, will lead a community dialogue exploring the topic, “Civil Rights Today the New Civil Rights Movement.” thelavinagency.com/speakers/shaun-king

Staceyann Chin
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. — UU MPR
Staceyann Chin, an “out poet and political activist” since 1998, will share poetry and lead a community dialogue examining our theme for the month: “Our Bodies.” soapboxinc.com/speakers/staceyann-chin

Matika Wilbur
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. — UU MPR
Matika Wilbur is a photographer committed to changing the way we see Native America. She will lead a community discussion building off of her latest work, Project 562. matikawilbur.com

Tommy Orange
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. — UU MPR
Tommy Orange, author of the New York Times Best Seller “There There,” will discuss his writing process and various themes of Native culture and history that are laced throughout his works. prhspeakers.com/speaker/tommy-orange

Aunty Pua
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. — UU MPR
Join us in community with Aunty Pua, an activist and Hawaiian culturalist, as we discuss the ongoing struggle to preserve Mauna Kea and other sacred sites of Hawaii.