LATINX AWARENESS MONTH  SEPT. 17

Sonia Nazario
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. PST — Zoom
Sonia Nazario is an award-winning journalist whose stories have tackled some of this country’s most intractable problems — hunger, drug addiction, immigration — and have won some of the most prestigious journalism and book awards.

ACCESSIBILITY AWARENESS MONTH OCTOBER 15

Crip Camp
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. PST — Zoom
“Crip Camp” starts in 1971 at Camp Jened, a summer camp in New York described as “a loose, free-spirited camp designed for teens with disabilities.” The film focuses on those campers who turned themselves into activists for the disability rights movement and follows their fight for accessibility legislation. Join us for a dialogue with the creative team behind the film “Crip Camp: A Disability Revolution.”

NATIVE AWARENESS MONTH NOVEMBER 3

One Word Sawalmem
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. PST — Zoom
Participate in a screening and discussion of the documentary “One Word Sawalmem.” The film emerges from a central question: What is one word from your ancestral language which changed your life and which you can offer to humanity as medicine to heal our relationship with the Earth?

NATIVE AWARENESS MONTH NOVEMBER 19

Julian Brave NoiseCat
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. PST — Zoom
Julian Brave NoiseCat is director of Green New Deal Strategy for Data Progress, a thinktank, and narrative change director for the Natural History Museum, an artist and activist collective. He is also a correspondent for Real America with Jorge Ramos and contributing editor for Canadian Geographic.

SOCIAL JUSTICE AWARENESS MONTH JANUARY 28

Alicia Garza
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. — TBD
Alicia Garza is the co-creator of #BlackLivesMatter and the Black Lives Matter Global Network, an international organizing project to end state violence and oppression against Black people, and author of the new book “The Purpose of Power: How We Come Together When We Fall Apart.”

BLACK HISTORY AWARENESS MONTH FEB. 25

Melissa Harris-Perry
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. — TBD
For nearly two decades, Melissa Harris-Perry has contributed to American public life through her distinct combination of scholarly analysis and ordinary wisdom applied to the analysis of race, gender, politics and power. Professor Harris-Perry is the Maya Angelou Presidential Chair at Wake Forest where she teaches courses on American politics and elections at the intersection of race, place and gender. She currently serves as editor-at-large for ZORA, a Medium publication for women of color. Her writing has appeared in the Wall Street Journal, the New York Times and the Chicago Tribune.

WOMEN’S HISTORY AWARENESS MONTH MARCH 18

Robin DiAngelo
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. — TBD
Robin DiAngelo, author of the best selling book “White Fragility,” is an academic and lecturer who has been a consultant and trainer on issues of racial and social justice for more than 20 years. Join us, in community as DiAngelo examines the intersections of racism and womanhood as well as how this connection has deepened the trauma of slavery and systemic racism.

LGBTQ+ AWARENESS MONTH APRIL 8

Scott Turner Schofield
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. — TBD
Scott Turner Schofield is an acclaimed diversity educator on transgender issues. He is also the first openly transgender actor to play a major role on daytime television “The Bold and the Beautiful.” He is a man who was a woman, a lesbian turned (mostly) straight guy who most people think is a gay man. He takes your labels and shreds them with a wink and a smile.

APIMESA MONTH APRIL 15

Pua Case
12:15 p.m. – 1:15 p.m. — TBD
Join us in community with Pua Case, an activist and Hawaiian culturalist, as we discuss the ongoing struggle to preserve Mauna Kea and other sacred sites of Hawai. Aunty Pua is at the forefront of the fight to halt the construction and destruction of Mauna Kea.
