FOUR COLLEGES

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION AND ALLIED STUDIES

Our programs in Kinesiology and Physical Education and Hospitality, Recreation, and Tourism break new ground in the fields of health and wellness. Our dynamic programs maximize new technologies and push students to consider diverse perspectives. CEAS is also home to future teachers, who can begin working in the classroom before earning their credential.

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE

The College of Science is where innovation and creativity are tested against principles of hands-on experimentation, research and collaboration between students and faculty from different disciplines. Explore the mysteries of dark matter, pioneer changes in medicine, design new software, or reimagine the skyline.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS

The courses in the College of Business and Economics present different ideas via real-world projects. Undergraduate students have the opportunity to work alongside professionals and students in industry to gain real-world experience in marketing, entrepreneurship, operations and finance.

COLLEGE OF LETTERS, ARTS, AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

Choosing a major from the 20 arts, social sciences and humanities degrees offered through CLASS means nearly endless possibilities. Whether you want a future in politics, environmental studies, the arts, human development, or criminal justice, CLASS connects students to experienced professionals working in the field.

Because of CSUEB ... I was able to do research that I like to do and I feel I'm very content and confident in that area.

The CORE
When completed in 2022, the CORE will become a center for learning, engagement and collaboration, located at the heart of Cal State East Bay’s hilltop campus. The CORE’s 21st-century academic library will teach students how to navigate the information-age economy and become self-directed learners. The new building will offer collaboration spaces, media technology and a skywalk overlooking the bay.
