COVID-19 impact on your travel to California

- Before boarding a flight to the United States, Current U.S. Centers for Disease Control (CDC) guidance requires all air passengers, including fully vaccinated people, to have a negative COVID-19 test result no more than 1 day before travel or documentation of recovery from COVID-19 in the past 90 days.

- During traveling: Wearing a mask over your nose and mouth is recommended on planes, buses, trains, and other forms of public transportation traveling into, within, or out of the United States and in U.S. transportation hubs such as airports and stations.

- After arrival in California, per the California Department of Public Health (CDPH): travelers should follow CDC travel guidance and are not required to quarantine after travel unless they have symptoms concerning for COVID-19 disease; All travelers arriving in California from other states or countries should test 3-5 days after arrival.

Need a COVID vaccine or booster?
Cal State East Bay periodically hosts booster vaccination clinics on its Hayward campus for students and university employees. COVID Vaccines are also available throughout the Bay Area at local pharmacies (Check myturn.ca.gov to get a COVID-19 vaccine appointment or find a walk-in site near you).
COVID-19 impact on California and East Bay

- Over 80% of Bay Area residents are fully vaccinated
- Masking is recommended indoors in many public spaces including on campus at CSUEB.
- CSUEB offers free COVID testing to our campus community. See: www.csueastbay.edu/together/covid-19-testing.html
- CSU system has announced a COVID booster requirement. Cal State East Bay will require students who are eligible to receive a vaccination booster to do so. See CDC guidance on boosters for people vaccinated outside the U.S..

"I wear my mask because I care about the health and safety of others."
Flying into the Bay Area

• San Francisco Bay Area Airports
  – San Francisco International Airport (SFO)
  – Oakland International Airport (OAK)
  – San Jose International Airport (SJO)

• What to expect on Arrival at the Port of Entry (first airport you land at in the U.S.)
  – When entering the U.S. from abroad, everyone (including American Citizens), is subject to questioning by US Customs and Border Protection (CBP).
  – Primary Inspection will be where a CBP Officer will ask you to present I-20 and answer questions about where you are arriving from and the purpose of your stay in the U.S.
  – If the CBP officer cannot initially verify your information or you do not have all of the required documentation, you may be directed to another interview area in the airport area known as “secondary inspection.” Secondary inspection allows CPB to access your SEVIS record and conduct additional research in order to verify information without causing delays for other arriving passengers.
What to Expect at Port of Entry

Once your inspection is successfully completed, the inspecting officer will:

- Stamp your passport for duration of status (“D/S”) for F and J visa holders with date and port of entry
- Process an electronic I-94 arrival/departure record online.

Be aware that you will need to submit a PDF copy of this record later to CIE office (download from https://i94.cbp.dhs.gov)
