Reading Comprehension Strategies

Make Connections	Visualize	Ask Questions
<ul> <li>What connections do I make as I read?</li> <li>Good readers notice pieces of text that relate to or remind them of: <ul> <li>Their lives, past experiences, and prior knowledge</li> <li>Other books, articles, movies, songs, or pieces of writing</li> <li>Events, people, or issues</li> </ul> </li> <li>Tips: <ul> <li>That reminds me of</li> <li>This made me think of</li> <li>I read another book that</li> <li>I remember when</li> </ul> </li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Good readers create pictures in their minds while they read.</li> <li>While reading, note places where you get a clear picture in your mind that helps you understand the text: <ul> <li>I can picture</li> <li>I can see the</li> <li>I can visualize</li> <li>The movie in my head shows</li> </ul> </li> <li>Use your senses to connect the characters, events, and ideas to clarify the picture in your head. <ul> <li>I can taste/hear/smell the</li> <li>I can feel the</li> </ul> </li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Good readers ask questions before, during, and after reading to better understand the author and the meaning of the text.</li> <li>Ask questions of the author, yourself, and the text: <ul> <li>What is the author trying to say?</li> <li>What is the message of this piece?</li> <li>Do I know something about this topic?</li> <li>What do I think I will learn from this text?</li> <li>How could this be explained to someone else?</li> <li>What predictions do I have about this reading?</li> </ul> </li> </ul>
Infer	Determine Importance	Synthesize
How do I read between the lines? When the answers are "right there," good readers draw conclusions based on background knowledge and clues in the text. Ask yourself: • I wonder why • I wonder how • I wonder how • I wonder if Find information from the text that might be clues to the answers and use these with your background knowledge for possible answers.	<ul> <li>What's the big idea?</li> <li>So what?</li> <li>Good readers look for things that help them identify big ideas and why they are important.</li> <li>Look at text features for clues: <ul> <li>Titles and headings</li> <li>Bold print</li> <li>Pictures and captions</li> <li>Graphs and charts</li> <li>Chapter objectives and questions</li> </ul> </li> <li>Tips: <ul> <li>The big idea is</li> <li>Most important information is</li> <li>So far I've learned</li> <li>The author is saying</li> <li>This idea is similar to</li> </ul> </li> </ul>	<ul> <li>How do I use what I've read to create my own ideas?</li> <li>Good readers combine new information from their reading with existing knowledge in order to form new ideas or interpretations.</li> <li>Synthesis is creating a single understanding from a variety of sources.</li> <li>Tips: <ul> <li>Compare and contrast what I'm reading with what I already know or other sources of information.</li> <li>Think of new ways to use this information.</li> <li>Can connections I make across this text help me to create new generalizations or new perspectives?</li> </ul> </li> </ul>
