

Thanks everyone for Haitian quake relief support

- February 3, 2010 4:00pm

Friday's concert - organized by Theatre/Dance professor Ann Fajilan - raised more than $600 for Doctors Without Borders in Haiti, a part of Doctors Without Borders/Médecins Sans Frontières.

In addition to our student performers, social anthropologist musician Niam Shalhoub played the ukelee and sang, and the East Bay-based Haitian band Kalbass Kreyol brought down the house! Watch for them returning to the university stage.
