WUE Frequently Asked Questions

How much will students from WUE states save each year?
The WUE program offers substantial savings. WUE tuition is 150% of the California resident rate. Cost of attendance estimates are available online at csueastbay.edu/wue.

Which programs are eligible for WUE?
You may major in any open undergraduate field of study offered at Cal State East Bay.

If I am eligible for WUE, am I guaranteed admission to Cal State East Bay?
No. You must meet all non-California resident admission requirements for Cal State East Bay. See csueastbay.edu/admissions for details.

How do I apply for WUE at Cal State East Bay?
Step 1: Apply for admission to Cal State East Bay at calstate.edu/apply (Only undergraduate students can receive WUE fees. Graduate students may be eligible for WRGP, which is similar to WUE.)
Step 2: Submit a WUE Participation Agreement Form and follow the instructions on the form. After the WUE request is received, a reply will be sent to you from our WUE Coordinator informing you of the status of your application.

Can I receive the WUE benefit and later become a California resident for tuition purposes?
No, initial WUE awards and continued eligibility are based upon residence in a WUE member state other than California.
